Obtuse Moments

The last time Fourstar hit Europe, we lost Mike and Brophy. We were in Berlin and when everyone met up for breakfast they were nowhere to be found. When we realized that no one had seen them in about a day, we were a little worried, but then we got this email from Mike:

Subject: safe

*Dudes,
We are in an obtuse moment.
.... My phone died we will be at sketchy.
Get us on iChat.
-Mike*

Okay, cool? Whatever that means. They showed up later that day pretty banged up. There was a story involving hopping through multiple German backyards and crawling through a dog door—standard sketchy tour fare. Ever since Mike sent that cryptic email ‘obtuse moments’ has been a running joke amongst the Fourstar camp.

We headed for Europe this past Summer and in typical form, these Obtuse Moments occurred. They always do. How could they not with this squad? Fourstar is a loose band of different haircuts bound together by our love of skateboarding. Explaining each and every one of the dudes eccentricities can be a hard thing to articulate. That’s kind of the beauty of it.

Fourstar is a brand that’s for skateboarders. Not one type of skateboarder, but all skateboarders: the weirdos, the jocks, the squares, the thugs, the skaterats... and all the kooks in between.

We’ve been in this game for almost 20 years now, and we’ve stayed true to the vision all along: keep it skate, keep it tight and definitely keep it interesting. We shred, we party and we have fun.

We are the Street Pirate Originals.
